Moritz and Bertha Wallerstein, my grandparents had 6 children. ~~Moritz had one brother (your mother's grandfather, but I do not know his name nor anything about him.~~

Gertrude, aka Trude, the eldest was a French teacher, the only one who had nothing to do with the arts. She married Max Tauber and they had 2 children. Richard who survived the war in an Italian concentration camp, and stayed in Florence, Italy until he died a few years ago, and Kate who did not survive.

Laura, aka Lotte, was an opera singer and later a voice coach in Vienna. She married Dr. Julius Bunzl and they had 2 children Mausi and Joseph. Laura survived Terezin and died in Switzerland a couple of years after the war. Joseph was an anthropologist and died in New York in the 50ties, the others did not survive.

Victor, Vera's grandfather, was an Art historian and Prof. at the Berlin University and owned an Art Gallery. He was married to Vera v. Goldberg and they had two children, Franz and Gitta. Victor died in Italy and the rest of the family survived the war. Aunt Vera came to LA in the early 50ties, and a few years later went back to Rhodesia where she died. Franz lived in Rhodesia (where Vera was born) and later moved to London where he died and Gitta was a dancer and later dance teacher and choreographer in Los Angeles and moved to New York where she recently died.

Konrad, my father was a conductor, professor at the conservatory and owner of a private Opera and Music school. He was married to Frieda, and they had 3 children. Heinz, Margot and me. I am the only survivor.

Lothar was the well known stage director in Vienna, Salzburg, and the Met in NY. Married after the war, no children. He died in 1949.

Terese, aka Rezl, was a concert pianist and later piano teacher in Prague, married to Emil Goldschmidt, they had one son Herbert. Nobody survived. Both, your mother and I took piano lessons from aunt Rezl. So did my sister until she entered the master class at the Conservatory.

AN EMPTY OFFER

INEVITABLY the dramatic first impression conveyed by M. VYSHINSKY'S "offer" on the international control of atomic energy has lingered on after the essentially undramatic exposure of its emptiness. Under the awful shadow of an unspeakably destructive weapon, humane opinion must respond eagerly to any proposal which offers the smallest chance of escaping its threat. Generous hearts must have leapt in many breasts at Russia's apparent acceptance of control, at M. VYSHINSKY'S sweep
