The history of Vandalia, containing the ancient and present state of the Country of Mecklenburg; its Revolutions under The Vandals, the Venedi, and the Saxons with the Succession and memorable actions of its Sovereigns by Thomas Nugent R. S.

London printed for the Author Volum. 1.

1766. 4. pages. 452. preface 7 pages
pag. 16. It is not long since the reigning duke of Schwerin founded another university at Butzow in the principality of Schwerin; but the consequences of the ~~late~~ late War have greatly retarded its progress.

- 24. Parchim is the best and largest town in this principality (of Wenden) next to Güstrow, being about three miles in circumference and the metropolis of the circle of Mecklenburg. - it was rebuilt by prince Henry I in 1218 and had anciently a castle, which is gone to ruin.
It stands in a very pleasant country on the river Elde, which here forms two branches; these divide Parchim into the old and the new town, both of which have a parochial church. The adjacent fields are very agreeable, towards the south are fine groves and gentle eminences, and to the north is a spacious plain ..

- 25 Not far from hence (Newstadt) is a pleasant country-seat of Ludwigslust; thither his serene highness often retires in summertime, invited by the agreeableness of the situation.

- 28 Butzow is said to be ancient Bucephalea so called from Alexander's Bucephalus, and supposed to have been built by King Arthurius about 336 year before the birth of Christ. It is adorned with a Castle, where the bishops of Schwerin formerly resided. Several manufactories were erected in this place by French refugees during the administration of duke Frederic Wilhelm William; and the reigning duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin has founded an university in this town.

p. 31. The game in this neighbourhood is supposed by some to have given name to this city; Schwesim, in the Venedic Language, signifying a place ~~stocked~~ with wild beasts.

p. 36. The Name Schwaan is venedic, and signifies holy.

- 37. Gnoyen -- It is of Venedic original, and derives its name from the fatness of the soil.

- 38. They (viz the Convents of ladies Dobbertin Pribbenitz and Chalinow) are a sort of free-boarding schools, founded upon the ancient establishment, where young ~~ladies~~ ladies generally of the best families, are educated; some of them spend their lives in these houses, without taking either the religious vow or habit; neither are they tied down to many rules, but barely such as are requisite for the good order of the community. As they can quit those retreats and marry whenever they please, they cannot be considered as lost to society.

Tessin -- The name is derived from a Venedic word, Tels, signifying a tribunal or court of justice; for here in all probability, the ancient Venedi held their assemblies or comitia for determining civil disputes among themselves; so that what the Franks and Saxons called mallum vel placitum was distinguished among the Venedi by the name of Tels.

- 41 Strelitz -- is situated in a large plain, almost surrounded with several lakes; the neighbouring forests extends a vast way towards Stargard, and abounds with all sort of game: and hence it is supposed to have derived its name: Strelika in the venedic language signifying a javelin or a huntsman. And probably the ancient Kings of the Obotrites had a hunting-seat in this neighbourhood.

p. 63. Mecklenburg is called from the old word Mecklen, viz, to trade (being advantageously situated for a most extensive commerce, pag. 399) Werle bears a near affinity to the Dutch word Werelt which signifies World, and that such a name might have been properly applied to this city, on account of its great extent, or of the diets and assemblies held in this place, for which its situation was extremely convenient. (as Aldenburg, Oldenburg in German vid. p. 216)

Stargard signifies an old town, or according to some an old place. for the term Gard has been taken in the latter sense, which appears from the many towns in that termination Nauyard, Belgard etc.

Butzow may have been so denominated from its pasture, famous for a number of oxen; owe or gowe in the old Sclavonic language denoting a meadow, and buffel turned into butz an ox or buffalo. <sup>Non dicitur</sup> toy chiss wa nebiggay etc. and and Caspir ad alk ~~Magdal~~ <sup>Magdal</sup> ~~Magdal~~

p. 142. Taber mus, Kas tu ep eschan debber etc.

The names terminating in ow, are beyond all doubt, of Vandalic original, as Butzow, Gutzow, Telerow, Thirow, Nemerow, Grabow, which come from the German word Aue, signifying the same as Gau and Gowe, a Field or meadow. The like may be said of the names ~~terminating~~ terminating in Jagow, as Greifenhagen, Gubenahagen, Bugenhagen &c. which are derived from the German word Jag, in the plural Jagow, a Hedge; for in such place the Heathens used to worship their deities. Thus the city of Lubek some derive from the Venedic word Lubka, signifying a Bride: but the Venedi borrowed that word from the Vandals, for Lubow in the high German or Lubow in the Low German, are used as flattering terms to a lady (Comp.
